BeamYourScreen

Online Meetings, Presentations and Webinars

What is BeamYourScreen?

BeamYourScreen is an easy-to-use software solution for a fast transmission of one's computer screen. In addition to hosting meetings, the solution enables individuals to give sales and product demonstrations over the Internet, as well as providing online instruction and training for customers or employees without even leaving the office.

Secure Online Meetings and Collaboration

Companies can coordinate team meetings, create documents and review project results online, dramatically saving time and travelling costs.

Professional Online Presentation and Web Demos

Sales demonstrations that are given over the phone can be visualized more easily with BeamYourScreen without the need to travel to the client. Users enjoy the possibility of showing any presentation, every document and all applications from one's computer. The sales cycle is drastically reduced and companies achieve higher revenues.

Valuable Online Trainings

Training for employees and customers can be easily done over the Internet. This reduces overall training costs, simplifies the release of new products and optimizes communication.

More than 2000 companies benefit from BeamYourScreen

"We use BeamYourScreen up to 10 times a day and it saves us a minimum of €100 each time. The most successful story saved our company €1500 in expenses and 18 hours of traveling time."
