BeamYourScreen Awarded ISO 9001 Certification

The provider of online meeting services, BeamYourScreen GmbH, has received the ISO 9001 Certification, one of the most internationally recognized and sought-after awards for quality management. Receiving this Certification is a great honor for not only the people of BeamYourScreen, but also for external interested parties as it assures people worldwide that the company has fulfilled the highest quality management requirements.

Mannheim, GERMANY December 1, 2010 - The renowned provider of online meeting solutions, BeamYourScreen GmbH has been officially recognized for its quality management system by being awarded the ISO 9001 Certification. One of the most globally recognized family of standards and guidelines for quality management, the ISO 9001 Certification acknowledges BeamYourScreen's quality management system as having the ability to consistently provide products and services that enhance high customer satisfaction and that meet applicable statutory and regulatory requirements.

As the company is based in Germany, BeamYourScreen (<http://www.beamyourscreen.com>) was audited by the well-known international service corporation, TÜV SÜD, which provides services to its clients for consulting, testing and certification in the safety of products and services. TÜV SÜD established that the BeamYourScreen company has fulfilled the requirements of and applies a quality management system for the development, operation, sales and support of web collaboration and web conferencing systems.

The world is a global marketplace making the need for international standards highly important, and the fact that the ISO 9001 Certification is recognized across the world is an important fact for BeamYourScreen, which provides its products and services to clients in over 200 countries. While it is a great honor for the employees of BeamYourScreen to be recognized for their work and achievements, it is just as important for the company's prospect and client base.

"From the customers' and users' point of view, this certification is a great trust builder," explains BeamYourScreen's Managing Director, Mark Zondler. "Although desktop sharing is not a new technology, it is still new to many businesses. The ISO 9001 Certification consequently reassures all of our customers that we go to extreme measures to ensure that we deliver our products and services in accordance with the highest quality management standards."

Knowing that the ISO 9001 Certification is an internationally recognized standard for quality management, reassures prospects and clients all around the world that the BeamYourScreen software is safe for business use, and gives the company that vital competitive edge.
